Innovative crop insurance could only be helpful in such situations. This is why Kiel University is working on improving the welfare of Ghanaian cocoa farmers. Innovative crop insurance products can help them overcome income fluctuations and production risks.

Cocoa is a very important export good of Ghana.      Foto: Thinkstock